

EEA Forms New Chemical Industry SIG

The EEA's nine Special Interest Groups and five Technical and Legal Working groups are the driving force behind our mission to develop open, standards based-specifications for Ethereum blockchain solutions. EEA members within these groups actively exchange information and identify opportunities to further enhance the EEA's standards to meet the needs of the global marketplace. To this end, the EEA has formed a Chemical Industry Special Interest Group (SIG) to ensure that the EEA technical specification supports this industry's specific requirements.

The Chemical SIG is chaired by Bettina Uhlich, Chief Information Officer and Global Head of IT Services of the Evonik Group (one of the world's leading chemical companies), and vice-chaired by Marcel Kuhs, CEO of AZHOS AG, who specializes in developing payment solutions for the chemical industry on a smart contract platform.

The EEA is at the cutting edge of development and deployment of enterprise Ethereum blockchain technology. Join the EEA and collaborate with your peers to develop new business models that address specific challenges within every industry, including yours.

The first real estate transaction on blockchain, in the Swiss city of Zug, was tokenized through EEA member blockimmo's platform. blockimmo works with financial institutions and other strategic partners in various countries to enable joint real estate investments through crowd sales.
