Partnership to Bridge Open Banking With Web 3.0

API3 and Open Bank Project Initiate a 10-Year Development Partnership

Understanding the regulatory and compliance implications of using blockchain for financial services is critical for any organization looking to adopt blockchain technology.

API3’s Eugene Aseev described a vision for a managed services platform that makes it easy to create and scale blockchain applications.

API3 has a unique approach to solving blockchain challenges by promoting an open, non-proprietary, and flexible architecture.

Work continues on developing and clarifying the Enterprise Ethereum ecosystem through the work of the Enterprise Ethereum Alliance and its members.
